When does the REXULTI Savings Card expire?

There is no expiration date for the REXULTI Savings Card and no current plans to discontinue this offer. Otsuka America Pharmaceutical, Inc. has the right to rescind, revoke, or amend this program at any time without notice.

Are there any restrictions by insurance and/or pharmacy?

Patients may be eligible for the Savings Card Offer if they have commercial prescription insurance and are 18-64 years of age. Full eligibility will be determined by their pharmacist. For reference, REXULTI is covered on 97% of commercial insurance plans nationwide. Most pharmacies accept savings cards. In the rare instance where a pharmacy does not allow for copay card use, a patient can request reimbursement by downloading a form from rexulti.com/mailorder.

If a patient's insurance changes, can they still use their REXULTI Savings Card?

As long as the new insurance covers REXULTI and/or the generic antidepressant and is not Medicare or Medicaid (including managed Medicaid), Medigap, VA, DOD, or TRICARE, or another federally or state funded program that covers their prescription in whole or in part; and this offer is consistent with their insurance, they should be able to use the REXULTI Savings Card.

What if the patient has a deductible vs a copay?

If REXULTI® (brexpiprazole) and/or the generic antidepressant is covered by the patient's insurance, both the patient's out-of-pocket and co-pay card benefit will count towards their deductible.

For the first 2 uses, patients pay $0 for REXULTI with a maximum benefit of $1,300 per use– $2,600 that may be applied to an annual deductible.

For uses 3+, patients may pay as little as $15 for REXULTI with a maximum benefit of $200 per use. That is an additional $200 per month that may be applied to an annual deductible.

For the generic antidepressant, patients may pay $0 per use with a maximum benefit of $100.

Up to $5,800 may be applied to an annual deductible with 12 uses. If a patient's deductible has already been met, a patient's expected out-of-pocket cost still operates as outlined above.

Do patients need to acquire both medications from the same pharmacy?

No, but patients will need to present the same card for use at both pharmacies and ask the pharmacist to retain the card information on file. Once the card information is on file for both prescriptions, they should not need to bring it each time they fill a prescription.

What if they are on a branded antidepressant instead of a generic?

The REXULTI Savings Card does not cover branded antidepressants.

What if they are on more than one generic antidepressant?

The REXULTI Savings Card will cover one generic antidepressant in a 30-day period.

What generic antidepressants will the REXULTI Savings Card cover?

The REXULTI Savings Card covers currently available generic antidepressants. Please see REXULTI.com for a list of covered generic antidepressants.

Can patients use the card for the antidepressant alone?

The benefits for REXULTI and the generic antidepressant are separate. The generic antidepressant can be written within 3 months before and after treatment with REXULTI.

- Those patients can still receive their separate benefits for both prescriptions within that proximate timeframe.

Can patients still use the card for their generic antidepressant if they stop taking REXULTI?

The benefits for REXULTI and the generic antidepressant are separate. The generic antidepressant can be written within 3 months before and after treatment with REXULTI.

- Those patients can still receive their separate benefits for both prescriptions within that proximate timeframe.

Does the REXULTI Savings Card work for 90-day prescriptions?

Yes, patients should confirm with their insurance providers. If allowed, patients pay as little as $15 per 90-day prescriptions for REXULTI and $0 for the generic antidepressant.

What if a patient is already taking REXULTI?

An eligible, existing REXULTI patient can still use the REXULTI Savings Card for REXULTI refills and generic antidepressant prescriptions. Patients should present the card to the pharmacist when picking up their prescription(s) and ask the pharmacist to keep the card information on file. The $0 for 2 months offer is only valid for one use in a calendar year.
